COURSE NAME Covid-19 Organizational Considerations LENGTH 40 mins

DESCRIPTION

As we get ready to go back to work, we must realize the workplace we left will change drastically when we return. We have heard of physical distancing and seen it in effect as we go to the stores, the bank and the gas station. We must be prepared for the foreseeable future to see these practices in place while we wait for a vaccine to be available across the world.

This course will walk you through the basics that may be in your workplace or should be considered when you return to your workplace. As always we will be guided by the Government experts leading us through the COVID-19 protocols as we do return to "the new normal."
